Just recently, we received an email about a comment posted on one of our images within our collection from HRVH.org. It was from a man who believed his great-grandfather was a captain of the Benjamin B. O'Dell Steamboat. He wanted to know if we had any supporting information to confirm his knowledge of his great-grandfather. Our local history department searched our archives, and we were thrilled to discover a photo of this inquiring man's great-grandfather standing in front of the Benjamin B. O'Dell steamboat with his name listed on the back of the photo as "1st pilot." Above is the photo we found, which is from the Badner Collection.
